James R. Vollbracht

James Vollbracht is a trainer, speaker, and author with over 20 years of experience empowering individuals, communities, and organizations to support the positive development of youth. As a trainer for Search Institute, Vollbracht is responsible for educating communities, organizations, and individuals about Developmental Assets and for helping them design strategies to build these assets for youth. Vollbracht has been the keynote speaker at national and regional conferences for both youth and adults across the country, and recently facilitated statewide community mobilization training in Wyoming that attracted more than 400 community members, representing 45 different community mobilization teams. He is also working with communities to translate and apply the key components of America's Promise: The Alliance for Youth, a multiyear national campaign chaired by General Colin Powell. Vollbracht's commitment to the asset framework has allowed him to work with schools nationally in adopting school-based character education programs that make a lasting difference in lives of youth.
