

Search Institute – Limited License and Terms of Use for Professional Development Workshop

BY ENROLLING AND PARTICIPATING IN THIS WORKSHOP, YOU AGREE AS FOLLOWS:

Search Institute, owns the intellectual property rights, including but not limited to all copyright and trademark rights, in these materials and any and all associated workshop materials (collectively, the “Workshop Materials”). Workshop Materials are and remain the property of Search Institute. Upon completion of a Search Institute Workshop, supported by the Workshop Materials, Search Institute grants you, as participant, a limited nontransferable license and right to use this electronic copy for personal noncommercial use.

Neither you nor your employer nor any other party are granted any license, ownership rights, copyrights, trademark rights or any other rights whatsoever in or to the Workshop Materials of any kind or nature.

Neither you nor your employer nor any other party may: (a) reproduce, in any form or by any means, the Workshop materials; (b) prepare derivative works of the Workshop Materials; (c) distribute copies of the Workshop Materials for sale or to persons who have not completed Search Institute Workshop supported by the Workshop Materials; (d) perform or display the Workshop Materials publicly; (e) translate the workshop materials to another language, (f) record any portion of the workshop; (g) authorize others to do any of the foregoing.

What is copyright?

Copyright is a form of protection provided to authors of original works by the laws of the United States and international treaties to which the United States is a party. The copyright laws of the United States give the owner of the copyrights to a work the exclusive rights to:

- Reproduce the copyrighted work in copies however produced (e.g., photocopying, scanning, recording, faxing, electronically);
- Prepare derivative works (e.g. translations, revisions, abridgments, dramatizations, video adaptation, any form in which the work may be transformed or adapted);
- Distribute copies for sale;
- Perform or display the work publicly; and
- Authorize others to do any of the above.

Participant hereby acknowledges and agrees that all tools, processes, strategies, materials and information presented in the Workshop Materials, PowerPoint and support materials are confidential, copyrighted, and proprietary to the Search Institute and agrees not to record, duplicate, distribute, teach or train from the Seminar materials in any manner whatsoever without the express written permission of Promoter. Attendees may not use any device to video, photograph, or record any aspect of the Workshop or Workshop Materials.

Certain uses may be available for authorized licensed use on occasion on a case by case basis. If you have any questions regarding this license and/or are interested in obtaining a license to use any of the intellectual property of Search Institute, please contact: si@search-institute.org, to be directed to Permissions.